Avery Hall Project

Call for Art

Description

Avery Hall, currently being renovated, will be the new home of the Math and Computer Science Departments. The Departments will grace either the two halves of the buildings design, with prominent hallways connecting the two disciplines. This building, originally built in 1916,with an addition built in the 40's, will house classrooms, labs, and a library.

Selection Process

The Selection Committee, which is comprised of UNL faculty, Facilities Management architects, and the State's Percent for Art Manager, will consider works already produced, rather than proposals for work to be completed. The Committee will consider a variety of pieces, varying in size and medium. Selection criteria will include: quality of work, permanence and suitability for public spaces, and the work's relationship to the project's theme. All works of art submitted for review must be available for purchase.

Project Theme

Due to project's location, artwork submitted for consideration should touch upon any of the following concepts: math, computers, language, calligraphy, pattern, cryptology, or other concepts related to the disciplines to be housed in this space.

Types of Art Sought

While all media will be considered, two-dimensional work (paintings, drawings, photographs, etc.) or sculptural wall-hangings are most suitable for the available space. The targeted areas for art involve the prominent hallway connecting the Math and Computer Science Departments, a prominent space in the library, and stairwells (please note that high sunlight exposure will occur in the stairwells). With the decorative moulding near the ceiling in much of the building, potential areas for art have the dimensions of approximately 8 by 10 feet.
